

NUCLEO PRO-C

The nature's way to restore health

A Growth Promoter which starts working in chick stage.
An essential feed supplement for growers.

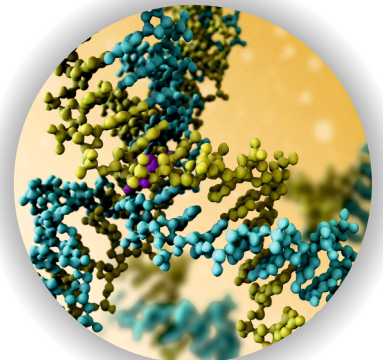

NUCLEO PRO C, improves gut health, weight and builds up immunity. The proper weight gain, body development, immunity and reduced mortality rate are very important in the growing stage.

The birds in growing stage face the challenges of stress, infections and maintaining the uniform growth. If the uniform growth is not maintained, it has negative effect on laying stage.

Maintaining good gut health and building a strong immunity in the early stages of growth ensures the desired production at later stage.

NUCLEO PRO C is a combination of Nucleotides, Probiotics and Vitamin C.

The nucleotides are important in body development. Regular feeding of nucleotides has shown the benefits such as, rapid growth (even under stress), reduced impact of pathogenic infection, growth of lactic acid producing bacteria and other beneficial gut microbes. This reduces the chances of dysbiosis, increases the villi length, enhances the immune system by increasing the leukocytes and macrophages.

The probiotics in NUCLEO PRO C (10 million cfu/g) are useful in improving the gut health, in the development of intestinal epithelium, in reducing gut lesion scores, in reducing the infection chances of Salmonella and C.perfringens, in reducing the chances of pathogen invasion and colonisation and in building a better immune system.

Vitamin C

Vitamin C is an important ingredient of NUCLEO PRO C. It works as an antioxidant, has anti-inflammatory properties which help to reduce oxidative stress. It also helps to improve the immunity. It is an essential nutrient for layer birds in normal metabolism.

Use NUCLEO PRO C regularly in the growing stage of the bird. This will help to build immunity to fight against stress, disease and mortality. It will keep the gut healthy. Healthy gut means proper weight gain as per body weight guideline. This body development also shows the proper development of sexual organs. The laying starts as per the schedule

NUCLEO PRO C can be used through water or through feed.
